NARRATIVE: On 09-03-2020 at approximately 2000 hours, I, Detective Sergeant Kevin Engelbertson, was contacted by Lieutenant Ray Brady of the Thurston County Sheriff's Office. Lieutenant Brady advised me that the Region 3 Critical Incident Investigation Team (CIIT) was being activated for a shooting at 7601 3rd Way Southeast in Lacey, Washington.

I was informed there were possibly up to four shooting officers involved and multiple witness officers who had been on scene during the incident. I was also informed the suspect, Michael Reinoehl, was deceased, had not been transported and was still at the scene. I was further informed that detectives from Grays Harbor County, the Washington State Patrol and Lewis County would be conducting the investigation with Thurston County being the lead agency. I was advised Mason County most likely would not be responding due to an officer involved shooting several days prior where they were the lead agency and were still investigating the case.

I called Detective Tyson Brown and Detective Scott Robb and advised them of the situation and asked that they respond to the scene.

While en route, I was contacted by Detective Sergeant Simper with the Thurston County Sheriff's Office who asked if we could divert to the Lacey Police Department where all of the shooting and witness officers were located. Our task was to process the officers for evidence and obtain statements from the witness officers, if they agreed to do so.

When I arrived at the Lacey Police Department I met the lead investigator for Thurston County, Detective Mickey Hamilton. I was present with Detective Hamilton when we addressed all of the officers and advised them what our role would be in the investigation and what to expect. We were also advised that many of the officers involved also had peer support members as well as legal representation present.

During this time I was advised there were several fulltime United States Marshals involved in the incident and possibly some officers who were cross-commissioned as TFO's with the U.S. Marshals Service. I only recognized one U.S. Marshal member, Ryan Kimmel, as I had worked with him over a year ago regarding a registered sex offender detail in Lewis County.

We then made teams of officers to contact both the shooting officers and the witness officers to take photographs and inventory their equipment. Due to the large number of people involved, my role was to answer questions from the officers and their representatives, make sure the process was being completed in a timely manner, and assist where needed.

At one point I contacted Detective Robb, who was photographing and collecting evidence from Pierce County Deputy Oleole. Detective Robb had conducted round counts on Deputy Oleole's equipment and I assisted in replacing the rounds back in the magazines before leaving to answer more questions from various representatives.

I contacted U.S. Marshal Ryan Kimmel, as he was one of the last subjects to be photographed and inventoried, and advised him of what the process would be. I was advised by Agent Kimmel and his supervisor they would need to make a phone call as they did not know if they would allow their equipment to be inventoried and rounds to be counted. I was later advised this would be allowed so I brought Agent Kimmel to Detective Brown, who was going to be conducting the photographs and inventory.

I assisted Detective Brown in unloading Agent Kimmel's magazines so Detective Brown could count and photograph the equipment. Agent Kimmel was asked if he would like to provide a statement and told me several times he was undecided. Later, Agent Kimmel told me he did not think he should provide a statement at that time because he was very tired.

After all officers were photographed, inventoried and/or interviewed, we were asked to respond to the scene at 7601 3rd Way Southeast, where we would later be asked to photograph and inventory the vehicles that were still on scene.

When I arrived I saw a large number of non-law enforcement personnel dressed in all black who seemed to be yelling derogatory statements towards the police. These subjects were located outside of the crime scene tape which had been placed around the area.

As I entered into the crime scene I could see the body of Mr. Reinoehl lying a short distance away from what I was told was the vehicle he had been in. I also saw several marked and unmarked police vehicles surrounding Mr. Reinoehl's vehicle. I saw numerous yellow placards marking fired casings, which were lying on the ground and on top of some of the vehicles. I observed what appeared to be bullet exit holes from one of the officer's vehicles which was facing the suspect's vehicle directly in front of it. I could also see what appeared to be bullet holes in the suspect's vehicle windshield.

During this time, Washington State Patrol was conducting scans and trying to document the crime scene. The crime scene was located near several large apartment complexes.

At approximately 0025 hours, Detective Brown, Detective Robb and I were assigned to photograph and inventory Deputy John Munson's patrol vehicle, which was sitting towards the edge of the crime scene. It was agreed that I would be a scribe and log items of interest found in the vehicle while Detective Brown and Detective Robb photographed and inventoried the vehicle.

The vehicle was a marked police K-9 unit with an exempt license of XMT C8752C. There was a multi-caliber Daniel Defense rifle in the front seat of the patrol vehicle which bore serial number DDM4242680 and had a suppressor on the barrel. There was one chambered round in the rifle and 28 rounds in the magazine, which was inserted into the rifle. There was also an extra magazine for the rifle in the driver's side door which contained 29 rounds.

While searching the back hatch or trunk area of the vehicle we located the following items: Two partial boxes which contained Federal HST 9mm rounds with 36 rounds in one box and 47 rounds in the second box; what appeared to be a locked box which contained one NFDD, also referred to as a flash bang; a less lethal .12 gauge shotgun containing four beanbag style rounds in the magazine and six on the stock; four PMAGs for an AR-15 which were still sealed in the bag and empty; a .556 caliber magazine containing nine rounds; another .556 caliber magazine containing 12 rounds; another .556 caliber magazine containing 24 rounds; four .556 caliber magazines containing 29 rounds each; 108 loose .556 rounds; and 181 loose 9mm rounds. All of the other items located in the vehicle were general patrol items or items assoicated to a K-9.

We later searched an unmarked blue Dodge Charger, bearing Washington license AXR0804, which belonged to DOC Officer Whitehurst. We located seven loose .223 rounds in the center holder located in front of the shifter. After opening the trunk we located the following items: A ballistic shield; two new PMAGs for a .223, which were still in the package and empty; a ram and Halligan tool; another empty .223 magazine; two 9mm pistol magazines containing 17 rounds each; and a box of loose and partially boxed ammunition, which contained in total 173 .223 rounds and 114 9mm rounds.

Detectives then removed a camouflage backpack which contained the following items: 701 loose 9mm rounds; 268 loose .223 rounds; and three .12 gauge shells.

At some point while doing an inventory of the vehicles, I saw members of the Thurston County Coroner's Office and other detectives photographing and removing the body of Michael Reinoehl. I was advised during this process it appeared that Mr. Reinoehl had a small caliber pistol in one of his pockets, which I did not personally witness.

After completing an inventory of the second vehicle, Lewis County detectives were advised we could clear the scene as the suspect vehicle was going to be impounded and processed at a later time.

I cleared the scene at approximately 0330 hours.

End of report.

SUPPLEMENTAL:
On 9/3/20 at approximately 2010 hours, I, Detective Tyson Brown, was contacted by phone by Detective Sergeant Engelbertson that the Region 3 Critical Incident Investigation Team (CIIT) had been activated regarding an officer involved shooting in the Lacey, WA area. Detective Sergeant Engelbertson later provided an incident address of 7601 3rd Way SE, Lacey. I was requested to initially respond to the Lacey Police Department at 420 College St SE, Lacey where the involved officers and witness officers were awaiting contact.

Detective Sergeant Engelbertson and I arrived at Lacey PD at approximately 2104 hours. Detective Scott Robb arrived shortly after our arrival. Shortly upon our arrival, we received brief incident details from Thurston County Sheriff's Office Detective Hamilton. Detective Hamilton had informed us that members of the US Marshall Task Force had tracked a homicide suspect from Portland, OR to an apartment complex at 7601 3rd Way SE, Lacey. Detective Hamilton said he received information that the suspect, who was later identified as Michael Reinoehl, was seen putting a rifle case into a silver colored Honda. He was then seen getting into a beige colored Volkswagen as law enforcement attempted contact with the suspect. Upon making contact, the suspect was believed to be armed and was disobeying commands. Detective Hamilton also said law enforcement began shooting into the vehicle. The suspect then attempted to flee on foot as the shooting continued. The suspect then went down approximately 30-40 feet into the foot pursuit.

I was requested to process one of the involved officers. I was partnered with Thurston County Detective Sean Chatterton. It should be noted that other detectives who are not a part of the Region 3 CIIT were present to assist due to the need for additional resources. One of the Region 3 CIIT detectives were assigned to a non-member.

Detective Chatterton and I were later introduced to Craig Gocha from the Pierce County Sheriff's Department. Gocha had informed us that he is employed by Pierce County, and he is also a full-time task force operator for the US Marshall's

Task Force. Gocha was wearing khaki pants, blue shirt, ballcap, black shoes, a duty belt with a firearm in a holster, a soft armor vest, and a ballistic plate carrier with miscellaneous equipment attached.

I took 360 degree photographs of Gocha as he stood with his equipment on as he said he had it during the incident. I had Gocha remove (2) AR magazines from his plate carrier. I counted 30 rifle rounds in each magazine with Detective Chatterton verifying the count. The magazines were reloaded with the ammunition. I then had Gocha remove his handgun from his holster, which he then provided to me. The handgun is a Glock 17 9mm (SN: BGFE262). I removed the magazine from the handgun, and I observed a 9mm round in the chamber upon locking the slide to the rear. I counted (19) 9mm rounds from the magazine for a total of (20) rounds. The rounds were placed into a separate bag, which were then placed into a box that the handgun was secured into. I then removed an extra pistol magazine from Gocha's duty belt, which consisted of (20) 9mm rounds.

I asked Gocha if he had all of his equipment currently with him or if some of it was still at the scene. Gocha said he has a pistol magazine somewhere at the scene. He also said his rifle was not used, however, it would still be inside a Chevy Traverse, which was driven by Ryan Kimmel. Gocha said he is unaware where that vehicle is currently at.

I continued to photograph and document Gocha's equipment as Chatterton was placing them into evidence bags. I also collected Gocha's clothing, which included his wrist watch and shoes, which had blood on them. Gocha's personal wallet and chap stick were the only personal items that were photographed and returned to Gocha.

While we were on scene, we were advised that some of the witness officers would not be providing a statement at that time.

I was then tasked with processing Erik Clarkson as a witness officer. Clarkson informed me he is a Sergeant with the Pierce County Sheriff's Department, as well as a full-time task force operator with the US Marshall Service. I took 360 degree photographs of Clarkson and of his equipment. Clarkson said his rifle was left in the backseat of a minivan at the scene of the incident. He described his rifle as a Daniel Defense SWAT rifle with a 4 inch suppressor with a multi-cam cover. He also informed me there was a Noise Flash Diversionary Device (NFDD) in the front cupholder of the vehicle.

I had Clarkson remove his handgun from his duty belt holster so I could photograph it. The handgun is a Glock 17 9mm (SN: BBBT899). I counted one live 9mm round in the chamber, as well as (22) rounds in the magazine. I also counted the live rounds in two extra handgun magazines. One magazine had 21 rounds and the other had 22 rounds. I also had Clarkson remove an AR magazine from his duty belt. I counted (20) rifle rounds from the magazine. Each magazine was reloaded with the ammunition and provided back to Clarkson.

I was also tasked with processing Ryan Kimmel as a witness officer. I also took 360 degree photographs of Kimmel and of his equipment. Kimmel informed me his rifle was left in the front seat of the Chevy Traverse he had been driving. His rifle was described as a "Colt" with (SN: LE008694).

I had Kimmel remove his primary handgun from his duty belt, which I then photographed and conducted a round count, with Detective Sergeant Engelbertson verifying the count. His handgun was a Glock 22 .40 caliber (SN: PLS524). I was able to verify one live .40 caliber round in the chamber and (15) additional rounds in the magazine. Kimmel produced two additional magazines, which each of them had 15 rounds. Kimmel also produced a backup handgun from his duty belt, which was a .40 caliber Glock 23 (SN: UPT525). I was able to see a live round in the chamber and (13) additional rounds in the magazine. Kimmel also removed an AR magazine from his plate carrier. I had counted (30) rounds in the magazine. I took photographs of the equipment before reloading the magazines and I provided them back to Kimmel.

Neither Clarkson or Kimmel were willing to provide a statement at that time. Kimmel cited his reason as being too tired.

Shortly after, I departed Lacey PD and responded to the incident location, where I arrived at approximately 0000 hours on 9/4/20. The scene at the apartment complex was marked with crime scene tape around the perimeter. Upon our arrival, I observed a large number of individuals dressed in all black attire with black bandanas covering their faces. These individuals began yelling obscenities towards investigators that were on scene.

Upon entering the scene, I observed a deceased male subject, identified as Reinoehl, laying on the ground, near what was identified as a vehicle Reinoehl was last seen inside. The suspect's vehicle also had what appeared to be bullet holes through the windshield. There were also multiple unmarked vehicles surrounding Reinoehl's vehicle. I also observed numerous yellow placards marking spent shell casings.

While we were on scene, Detective Sergeant Engelbertson, Detective Robb, and I were tasked with inventorying the vehicles that were still on scene.

The first vehicle we were assigned to inventory was a Pierce County marked K9 patrol vehicle (WALIC: XMT C8752C) assigned to Pierce County Deputy John Munson. Detective Sergeant Engelbertson was assigned as a scribe to write down any items of interest. I was tasked with taking photographs of the vehicle and of any items of interest as Detective Robb would remove items of interest, such as various types of ammunition. This also included a Daniel Defense AR rifle that was found on the driver side floorboard, leaned up against the driver seat. I also assisted Detective Robb in conducting round counts of the ammunition, which we then relayed to Detective Sergeant Engelbertson what the round counts were.

We also inventoried another vehicle, which was a dark blue unmarked Dodge Charger (WALIC: AXR0804) who we were told was driven by one of the US Marshall's. Detective Sergeant Engelbertson, Detective Robb and I carried out the same assignments.

For a detailed description of round counts as well as what was inventoried, see Detective Sergeant Engelbertson's report.

After conducting an inventory of the second vehicle, we were advised we could clear the scene. I cleared the scene shortly after.

SUPPLEMENTAL NARRATIVE:
On Thursday, September 03, 2020, at approximately 2015 hours, I received a phone call from Detective Sergeant Kevin Engelbertson notifying me of a Region 3 Critical Incident Investigation Team (CIIT) call out. He told me there was an officer involved shooting (OIS) incident in Thurston County that occurred at 7601 3rd Way SE, Lacey, WA 98503. He told me to meet at the Lacey Police Department, located at 420 College St SE, Lacey, WA 98503.

At approximately 2110 hours, I arrived at the Lacey Police Department and met up with other investigators from the CIIT. Detective Mickey Hamilton, with the Thurston County Sheriff's Office, briefed us on the events that occurred. He told us a suspect in a Portland, OR homicide had been tracked to an apartment at the 3rd Way SE address by members of the US Marshall Task Force. We were told the suspect in this case, Michael Reinoehl, had been seen putting a rifle case into a silver colored Honda passenger car and then got into a beige colored Volkswagen passenger car. We were told during the contact with Mr. Reinoehl, multiple Task Force Officers had fired their weapons and Mr. Reinoehl was deceased.

Due to the lack of available resources over the Labor Day holiday weekend, additional law enforcement personnel, who were not assigned to the CIIT, were called in and paired with CIIT members. I was paired with Detective Jordan Goss, who is with the Thurston County Sheriff's Office. Prior to speaking with any of the shooting and witness officers, we were told that none of the officers would be providing statements.

Detective Goss and I were introduced to Pierce County Deputy James Oleole, who was one of the involved shooting officers. Deputy Oleole was wearing a white and blue hat, sunglasses, grey t-shirt, blue pants and black shoes. On top of his shirt, he was wearing a dark blue ballistic vest with miscellaneous equipment attached to the vest. He was wearing a belt, which his holster was attached to. In his left front pants pocket, he was carrying a pocket knife, his keys and chapstick. In his right front pants pocket he was carrying a can of tobacco. I took photos of his keys, chapstick, and tobacco and let him take them with him.

I asked Deputy Oleole if he had all of the equipment he had on at the time of the incident. He told me it was not and said his rifle, which was the only weapon he fired during the incident, was still in the vehicle at the crime scene. He said the rifle was in a silver Ford Escape. He said the silver Ford Escape was the vehicle that was nose to nose with the suspect vehicle.

I took overall photos of Deputy Oleole bearing all of his equipment. I then took close up photos of his equipment. After getting photos of Deputy Oleole's gear, I had him remove his handgun from his holster, which he then gave to me. Deputy Oleole's handgun is a Glock 17 9mm (Serial Number: BBRC916). I removed the magazine and cleared the firearm. As I was clearing the firearm, I observed a round extract from the chamber. The magazine that I removed from the handgun was loaded with 21 rounds. I then counted Deputy Oleole's backup handgun magazines and each were loaded with 21 rounds. I counted 31 rounds in Deputy Oleole's rifle magazine, which was kept in his right chest pocket. I then asked Deputy Oleole to remove all of his gear. Deputy Oleole had a change of clothes brought to him. I asked Deputy Oleole to change into his clothes as we would be taking his gear and clothing as evidence.

As I was processing Deputy Oleole's gear, Detective Goss was annotating everything onto a property in custody form, placing the items into paper bags and labeling the paper bags accordingly with Oleole's name, the item number reflected on the property in custody sheet, and the item nomenclature.

After processing Deputy Oleole, Detective Goss and I began to process the remaining witness officers. We were instructed not to take any gear from the witness officers. We were instructed to only take overall photos and do a round count of all the ammunition on their person.

Detective Goss and I were then introduced to Pierce County Deputy John F. Munson. I began by taking overall photos of Deputy Munson. I documented Deputy Munson's Glock 17 9mm pistol (serial number: BDAT231). The magazine that was inserted into the handgun contained 21 rounds. As I cleared the handgun, I observed one round extract from the chamber. Deputy Munson had two backup handgun magazines and one rifle magazine. Both backup handgun magazines contained 21, 9mm rounds each. His rifle magazine contained 29, .223 rounds.

We were then introduced to Pierce County Detective Sergeant Byron M. Brockway. I began by taking overall photos of Detective Sergeant Brockway. I documented Detective Sergeant Brockway's Glock 17 9mm pistol (serial number: BGMB608). The magazine that was inserted into the handgun contained 16 rounds. As I cleared the handgun, I observed one round extract from the chamber. Detective Sergeant Brockway's had two backup handgun magazines and one rifle magazine. Both backup handgun magazines contained 17, 9mm rounds each. His rifle magazine contained 27, .223 rounds.

The last witness officer we were introduced to was Deputy Casey M. McEathron. I began by taking overall photos of Deputy McEathron. I documented Deputy McEathron's Glock 17 9mm pistol (serial number: BGMB590). The magazine that was inserted into the handgun contained 17 rounds. As I cleared the handgun, I observed one round extract from the chamber. Detective Sergeant Brockway's had two backup handgun magazines. Both backup handgun magazines contained 17, 9mm rounds each.

After we were done processing all shooting and witness officers, we were told to respond to the scene of the incident.

On Friday, September 04, 2020, at approximately 0000 hours, I arrived at the 3rd Way SE address. The scene was located in an apartment complex parking lot. I observed a deceased male laying in the parking lot. The beige Volkswagen was still running and there were several unmarked vehicles surrounding the Volkswagen. There were several numbered yellow placards on the ground, which were used to identify pieces of evidence.

Detective Sergeant Engelbertson, Detective Brown, and I were tasked with processing and inventorying vehicles of the shooting and witness officers. The first vehicle we were assigned was Deputy Munson's patrol vehicle, bearing Washington State license plate XMTC8752C. I was tasked with locating items of interest, Detective Brown was tasked with photographing items of interest and Detective Sergeant Engelbertson was tasked with annotating items of interest. Deputy Brown and I worked together to conduct round counts of the ammunition found inside Deputy Munson's patrol vehicle.

We then inventoried a dark blue Dodge Charger, bearing Washington State license plate AXR0804, which was driven by one of the Task Force Officer's. Detective Sergeant Engelbertson, Detective Brown, and I kept the same assignments that we had when processing Deputy Munson's patrol vehicle.

For a detailed description of the items of interest located in each vehicle, please refer Detective Sergeant Engelbertson's report for more information. To see photos of the items of interest located in each vehicle, please refer to Detective Brown's report for more information.

Shortly after processing the second vehicle, we were told we could clear from the scene.

This concludes my report.
